EMILY HALL

Author, Becoming Lottie Moon

Meet Emily Hall, author of Becoming Lottie Moon, a historical fiction novel exploring the early years of legendary missionary Lottie Moon. Emily graduated from Liberty University with a degree in journalism and began her professional journey in Washington, D.C. She currently resides in Richmond, Virginia, with her husband, five-year-old daughter, and another one on the way. Emily currently works as Prayer Content Specialist with the International Mission Board in Richmond. She grew up in Baptist churches where Lottie Moon was a familiar name, but as she grew older, her curiosity deepened. After seven years of digging into Lottie's story, Emily brings her to life with warmth, honesty, and heart in Becoming Lottie Moon. Personally signed copies of her book will be available for purchase.

DR. BETHANY HUNTER

Executive Director/Treasurer of HerMission

Meet Dr. Bethany Hunter, newly elected Executive Director/Treasurer of HerMission (formerly WMUV)! Dr. Hunter's connection to WMU began in childhood through Mission Friends and Girls in Action. She spent her summers at CrossRoads, later serving as a camp counselor. Bethany earned her B.S. degree from Longwood University and went on to complete her master's and doctorate in education at the University of Virginia. Before her appointment as Executive Director, she served as Assistant Principal at Appomattox High School. She now brings fresh vision to the Women's Missionary Union of Virginia—now HerMission—while carrying forward its extraordinary legacy, a movement of women on mission since 1874.
